

The forum will run from 7:00-9:30pm with a break from 8:20-8:30pm. Faculty: Please encourage your students to use good manners, to arrive on time, and if possible, to stay for the whole forum. If it is necessary for them to leave early, please ask that they leave during the break. Thank-you.
To download resources in preparation for this forum, visit the Speak Up, Speak Out web site at www.chsbs.cmich.edu/SUSO.

Wednesday, January 26 from 7-9:30pm, UC Auditorium

Nuclear Threats?

War – Energy – Waste – Terrorism

Let's Talk.

- How likely is nuclear war in today's world?
- Would the world be better off if nuclear arms were eliminated? Is Obama's stated long-term goal of a world without nuclear weapons realistic?
- What countries are pursuing a nuclear "missile shield"? Is this even feasible? Is it a good idea?
- What is the likelihood that a terrorist group would obtain a nuclear weapon? Is the international community doing enough to prevent this?
- Is nuclear energy sustainable? Is it an environmental threat?

Facilitator:

Andrew Blom, Philosophy and Religion

Panelists:

Won Paik, Political Science

Charles Novitski, Biology

Jacquelyn Keenan, student

Joel Durr, student

Also: Essay Contest – Last Chance!

Inclusive Worldview
Critical Thinking • Civility
Citizenship

Submit by Jan. 25

See website for details.

SUSO Organizing Committee: Andrew Blom (PHL/REL); Matthew Bowyer (student); Ted Clayton (PSC); Jeffrey Drury (CDA); Travis Faber (Student); Moataz Fattah (PSC); Thomas Greitens (PSC); Justin Hayes-Smith (SASW); Nathan Inks (Student); David Jesuit (PSC); Ulana Klymyshyn (MEC); Merlyn Mowrey, Chair (PHL/REL); Elyse Nelmark (student); Shannon Salk (student); Blaine Stevenson (SASW); Cherie Strachan (PSC); Christina Wickham (Student).
The "Speak Up, Speak Out: Current Events Series" is sponsored by the College of Humanities and Social & Behavioral Sciences, the College of Communication and Fine Arts, the Office of the Dean of Students, the Assessment Council, the Multicultural Education Center, the Volunteer Center, Pi Sigma Alpha, and the Center for Professional and Personal Ethics.
CMU, an AA/EO community, strongly and actively strives to increase diversity within its community. (See www.cmich.edu/aaeo.) Any request for accommodations due to a disability should be made through University Events at least five business days prior to the event.